

Hey David,

Hope y'all are doing fine in EuroMastersLand. Here in Tune-Town, things have exploded in blossoms. Y'all get that all the time in Calif., but we have to wait till March and April...so it's really special.

Thanks so much for the Owner's Manual...now if I get a flat tire...I'll know where to put the jack.

As for the car...Kerry is still miffed that I won't let him drive it much. When he asks if he can drive the car...I say, "Absolutely!....not. The only problem with it is I don't get to drive it enough. We work a LOT, so anytime I can run out for something (whether together or separately) I want to drive. Three words: Fab...U...Lous!! Of course, everyone stares at it as we drive by...I get followed a lot...until I hit the open road, or a passing lane...then I lose them.

I can even fit all three grandbabies (ages 3-8) in the car...we make quite the statement leaving church with the top off. They use it like a roller coaster and as we go over a hill, they throw up their arms and yell Woo Hoo! It's so cute.

Say hi to all my family at EuroMasters...miss y'all. Tell them (and you) to come see us if they're ever in Nashville.

Lynn
